5. Plot Applications With the Tiny Transfer Book

The idea of plotting an application is explicit and direct. The trainer guides this process and coaches the teacher to find a meaningful application before the teacher ever leaves the training site. Getting teachers to commit to an application is half the battle. If the teacher has a good idea about how to use the strategy, then perhaps that teacher will be moved to actually go back and use it.